

Pope Tells Consistory Cardinal Trial Rigged

Charges Reds Disrupting Church

Vatican City, Feb. 14—(AP)—Pope Pius XII today attacked the trial of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty as rigged and an outrage against the Roman Catholic church. He declared that Catholics should resist man-made laws "inconsistent with divine and human rights."

In an address before a secret and extraordinary consistory of the College of Cardinals, the pontiff charged that Hungary's Communist dominated government sought "to disrupt the Catholic church" there by striking at Cardinal Mindszenty.

The Pope expressed the belief that confessions made in a Budapest courtroom by Cardinal Mindszenty were wrung from him. The physical condition and behavior of the Hungarian primate appeared to be an accusation "against his very accusers and condemnors," the Pope said.

Speaking in sorrow Pope Pius warned that "those who rashly dare to trample upon the liberty of the church and the rights of human conscience, may at length understand that no civil society can endure when religion has been suppressed and God, as it were driven into exile."

Cardinal Mindszenty was convicted last Tuesday on charges of treason, spying and black market money dealings. In his address today Pope Pius deplored the "supreme indignity" visited on the cardinal who was deemed "like a criminal to life imprisonment."

The Pope told 16 cardinals locked into the apostolic palace's consistorial hall with him that the fullest publicity was given to protests which developed in the non-Communist world against the treatment of the Hungarian primate. Then the pontiff added:

Trial Not Public

"But, as you are aware, the full publicity did not shine over the trial of this prelate, who deserved so well of it. In fact, from the beginning the news that arrived caused alarm. People outside Hungary who asked permission to be present at the trial were refused permission if they seemed likely to judge impartially or to give a sincere report. This led them to believe, and all upright and honest men as well, that those who were conducting the trial in Budapest seemed to be afraid to allow all to see what was taking place."

"Justice, which is worthy of the name, does not begin with prejudices and is not based on a decision previously taken, but it gladly admits of free discussion and gives everyone due facilities for thinking, believing and speaking."

The Pope said the "tenacious faith of the Catholics of Hungary" was a consolation to him. He added that he also had been comforted by letters and telegrams from the entire Catholic world expressing "reprobation for the outrage offered to the church."

Doing What Church Demands

The pontiff told the assembled cardinals of the Vatican and the Italian sees that "we are doing what the outraged rights of the church and the dignity of the human person clearly demand."

His 20-minute long allocution, delivered in Latin, held no hint of further action. The holy congregation of the consistory already has pronounced major excommunication on "all those who dared raise their hands against the person of Cardinal Mindszenty, brought him to trial and participated in his infamous sentence."

Last Saturday the Pontiff called for special masses to be said throughout the Catholic world April 3 "to expiate the crime of the enemies of God."

Although there had been speculation that the church might resort to the ancient dire penalty of anathema, the Pope made no mention of this extreme form of excommunication in his address today. That penalty fell into disuse long ago.

Weather Man Promises Relief For Snowbound

By The Associated Press

The bountiful great mid-continent area, benumbed by repeated blizzards and arctic cold, Monday was promised some relief.

The trail of week-end wind-borne snow dissipated, leaving behind road-blocking snowdrifts. Moderating temperatures which followed a biting cold early Monday gave relief to agencies some respite and a chance to re-start digging operations.

Forecasters in Chicago predicted above zero temperatures throughout the snow-distressed great plains. Great basin and mountain states regions.

Elsewhere the forecast was for rain and freezing rain for the Great Lakes and Ohio river valley; clear and unseasonably cold in the far west; mild and pleasant in the south; some precipitation with cold storm-distressed mid-continent in the southwest; some snow and rain in the east, light, scattered snow in New England.

But the halt, perhaps temporary.

Fred K. Hoehler Appointed Illinois Welfare Director

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 14—(AP)—Fred K. Hoehler of Chicago today was named Illinois Welfare director, and immediately declared he would work for "integration" of mental hospital and public aid programs.

Hoehler, 55-year-old executive secretary of the Chicago community fund, was appointed by Governor Stevenson.

The Senate will be asked tomorrow to confirm him as successor to Cassius post of Sycamore, who was installed as welfare head four years ago by former Governor Green.

Less than an hour after he walked into his new office, Hoehler told a news conference he "agreed" with Stevenson in the latter's aim to streamline welfare and public aid administration.

In his inaugural message, the governor called for merging mental hospital functions, now a welfare department charge, with old age, blind and child aid payments—currently handled by the Illinois public aid commission—in a single, enlarged agency.

Peace Delegation Disagrees On Red Surrender Terms

Nanking, Feb. 14—(AP)—Members of an unofficial Nanking peace delegation disagreed among themselves today, adding new complications to the Chinese government's efforts to arrange a surrender to the Communists.

Prof. Wu Yu-Hao and two other educators, newly returned from talking to the Reds at Peiping, flew to Canton to report to Premier Sun Fo.

Six other members of their party, however, issued a statement in Shanghai denying much of their optimistic report.

This report, already given to acting President Li Tsung-Jen in Nanking, would not attack Nanking or Shanghai in the meantime, and were conciliatory about the "war criminal" and army reorganization questions.

The statement in Shanghai, carried by the official central news agency, denied all these points except the promise of negotiations, which was not mentioned.

U.S. Needs 3,000 Mile Rocket Proving Ground

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—New strides in the conquest of space by rockets make it necessary for the United States to have a 3,000 mile proving ground for launching such weapons, congress was told today.

Cost of providing such a test area would be $200,000,000.

Although military officials did not disclose full details they indicated a strip extending 3,000 miles in length is contemplated for testing the missiles.

Whether this would extend diagonally across the United States, out to sea or across the borders was not revealed but the bill in which the range is proposed would permit it to be established "within or without the continental limits of the United States."

Military and scientific authorities said that this country will have rockets this year capable of traversing 500 miles, and that eventually their horizontal range may be extended to 5,000 miles.

of the snow pointed up a new danger in the Missouri basin states.

New snow atop piled up drifts in the upper basin states increased flood dangers. Only a very gradual change from winter to spring and an orderly thaw can avert serious flooding, a report stated.

Heavy rains covered a wide section of the midwest and southwest Monday. The downpour preceded severe cold in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. Northern Missouri's fourth ice storm in five weeks glazed some regions to a depth of two inches. Four inches of rain fell in eastern Missouri.

Sleet and snow from one to three inches blanketed nearly all Kansas. Some Oklahoma roads were closed by sleet, rain and ice.

The week-end blizzard in the storm-distressed mid-continent was the worst in two weeks. It halted temporarily some relief work in South Dakota, Wyoming and Nebraska and spread into six counties of North Dakota.

On the outer fringe of the wind and snow, Maybell, Colo., played host to 500 snowbound travelers. Scores of buses, trucks and cars were locked in by the snow.

But after the snow came the severe cold. Big Piney, Wyo., had the lowest reading, -37. Numerous communities reported weather in the -20's. They included Milford, Utah, -27. Ely, Nev., and International Falls, Minn., -25, and St. Cloud, Minn., -23.

Scores of towns had -10 to -20 throughout Montana, Wyoming, Utah, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa and Nevada.

Evacuate 200 Boys From St. Charles As School Burns

St. Charles, Ill., Feb. 14—(AP)—More than 200 boys were evacuated safely today when the old school building at the Illinois State Training School for Boys caught fire.

Supt. Charles W. Leonard said the fire started at 1:15 p.m. in the apartment of the Catholic chaplain, the Rev. Valentine Kilmek, on the third floor of the building.

Boys were in class when the alarm rang, and teachers led them out safely and to their cottages. There were no attempts to escape, from the institution, Leonard said.

Five equipment from Geneva, St. Charles, Batavia, and the Girls Training School at Geneva was summoned and brought the blaze under control by 3 p.m. there was no estimate of damage other than that the three-story building, built about 1912, was considered a total loss.

Swedish Commies Change Leaders

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 14—(AP)—Sweden's communist party changed leaders today.

Sven Linderot, 60 and ailing, who returned only recently from Moscow, turned over his two most important party assignments to others. Party secretary Fritiof Lager became chairman of the party's working committee and Hilding Hagberg became chairman of the communist parliamentary group.

The Communists have 15 members in Sweden's 230-seat lower chamber of parliament and three in the 150-seat upper chamber.

High Court Rejects Meyers' Appeal For Review Of Trial

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—The supreme court rejected today former Major General Bennett E. Meyers' appeal for a review of his conviction for inducing another man to lie under oath.

Meyers, former army air forces purchasing officer, had contended that his trial was "a subtle mockery, a travesty and a sham." He is now in the District of Columbia jail, where he has served 11 months of a 20-month to five-year sentence.

The high court dismissed his petition without comment.

It also cleared the way for new proceedings in the complex and far-reaching dispute over whether the states or the federal government own oil-rich submerged lands off the coast, commonly called tidelands.

Oral arguments were called for on a request by the Department of Justice for permission to file suits seeking to establish federal control over submerged lands off the Texas and Louisiana coasts.

No date was set, but court attaches said the arguments probably will be held early in April.

Court permission is required because Attorney General Clark seeks to bring original suits—that is, suits started in the supreme court without prior proceedings in the lower courts.

The high court ruled 6-2 in June, 1947, that the U. S. has "various rights in, and full dominion and power over," submerged oil lands off the California coast. The government now contends the same rule applies to the Gulf of Mexico.

In other actions today, the supreme court:

1. Agreed to review a lower court's decision that a landlord may evict a tenant so the property can be sold, even though no sales contract has been made.

2. Decided 7 to 2 that the wage-hour administrator may bring a civil contempt action to force an employer to pay back wages after a court has directed the employer to stop violating the wage-hour law.

The conviction of Meyers grew out of sensational hearings which a Senate committee held in late 1947. A jury found him guilty of persuading a former associate, Bleriot H. Lamarre, to give false testimony to the war investigating subcommittee then headed by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.).

"I know their characters are beyond reproach," Gov. Smith said. "All of them are well and favorably known in their community and each has been successful in his own business or profession."

"I am confident of their integrity and ability to render this public service. I hereby instruct them singly and collectively to vigorously enforce all of the laws of the State of Missouri and the City of St. Louis under their jurisdiction. I am holding them strictly accountable for this public trust."

Wallace Unveils Budget He Would Have Proposed

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace proposed a $54,000,000,000 "budget for abundance" for the nation today and predicated it on a peace understanding with Russia.

The Progressive party candidate for president in 1948 unveiled his budget at a news conference. With the aid of a chart and pointer, he told how he would cut the Truman military budget in half and more than double for social welfare.

He omitted any funds for atomic bombs—saying "we have enough of those"—and proposed all Marshall plan aid be used for a foreign reconstruction and relief program administered by the United Nations.

Wallace said he saw "growing evidence of a depression" through falling farm prices and increased costs of metals.

House Group Paves Way For Hot Fight On Appropriations

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—The House Appropriations committee today paved the way today for the first big money fight of the 81st congress by approving a $466,882,177 cash bill for miscellaneous agencies.

The funds are to supplement money previously granted the agencies for the present fiscal year ending June 30.

The bill, due for house debate tomorrow, contains several items certain to touch off controversies.

Among them are a $2,500,000 grant to begin work on a steam generating plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn., by the Tennessee Valley authority, and permission for the Reclamation Bureau to use general funds for unlimited labor hire.

Rep. Taber (R-N.Y.), fiscal spokesman for House Republicans, told newsmen he would fight both items as well as several others.

Taber fired the opening round this afternoon before the Rules committee as he opposed procedure protecting the bill from being torn apart on technicalities known as points-of-order.

Adams County Bar Oppose 'Con-Con'

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 14—(AP)—A secret ballot of 40 Adams county lawyers showed a 21 to 19 majority oppose Governor Adlai E. Stevenson's program for a constitutional convention.

Results of the poll were announced today by Delbert Loos of Quincy, president of the Adams County Bar association. He said all 49 members of the association were polled. Nine refrained from voting.

Loos said he would notify legislators from the 36th senatorial district of the poll results.

Oppose Going To War On Moral Obligation

Denham, NLRB Leader, Denies 'Bias' Charge

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, glared at a hostile senator today and thundered a denial that he had ever been a "biased partisan."

This was his reply to Senator Neely (D-W.Va.), a foe of the Taft-Hartley act, who had accused Denham of bias.

Denham had an uncomfortable time before the Senate Labor committee as Democrats joined by Senator Morse (R-Ore.) attacked the "broad powers" which the Taft-Hartley act gives the general counsel's office.

Then the committee, which is holding a running debate on the question of a new labor law, heard some industry and labor witnesses. Harvey W. Brown, president of the International Association of Machinists (Independent), lashed the Taft-Hartley law and said it has created a sentiment among employers that unions "must be pushed around and punished."

Glen Gardner, a woolen mill executive and president of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce, asked for a continuation of a number of Taft-Hartley provisions in the interest of "fairness," though he said you can't legislate good labor relations.

The hearings will run until Feb. 23. There were ample signs today that congress may not agree on a new labor law until May or possibly June. And that means the Taft-Hartley act is likely to stay in its present form beyond the springtime expiration date of many labor-management contracts.

Neely and Denham came face to face today for the first time since the senator made his accusation of bias last week.

Neely asked questions concerning Denham's former career as a banker and his years as an NLRB examiner under the Wagner act, and then started asking "how can a biased partisan—"

"You have never had a biased partisan in this man Denham," Denham replied.

Neely, a positive little man with a stern face, then asked: "Do you think a biased man is ever competent to decide whether or not he is biased?"

There was a long silence. Finally Denham said: "I guess not. Of course it goes the other way, as to whether or not a biased person can adjudicate the bias of another."

Business Suffers In Transit Strike At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Feb. 14—(AP)—The average man got to work today, somehow, on the fourth day of Philadelphia's crippling transit strike. But his wife didn't do as much shopping as usual.

Travel was tough—and slow—Thousands walked. Thumbs worked overtime. As the result retail business was 50 percent below normal Monday let us.

One threat to even greater complications disappeared—temporarily, at least. The Quaker City's taxicab drivers, working 11-hour shifts, postponed a walkout of their own for 54 hours. The cab strike originally was set for midnight to night.

Negotiations between the CIO-transport workers union and the Philadelphia Transportation company continued.

The U. S. mediator kept mum—but the leaders of the 11,000 strikers and PTC management issued communiques.

Both sides accused the other of causing the strike. Both sides apologized for the "hardship" to the public.

John T. Watkins of Rock Island, district president of the Farm Equipment Union, proposed the election in the next 15 days. He said the fight between two CIO unions over organization of Farm Equipment workers should be settled that way once and for all.

A riot developed at East Moline last week when the UAW came to the four-city area to follow up the convention action.

Livingston, here for conferences at the CIO headquarters, was one of those injured slightly in the riot.

Faulty Pump Cuts City Water Supply

Niantic, Ill., Feb. 14—(AP)—A faulty pump caused a water shortage in this village today, the second time in less than a month.

James Cuniff, water superintendent, said the system lost 23,000 gallons in eight hours. Operators were restored to normal shortly after noon when the pump was repaired.

The supply failed for 39 hours on Jan. 20-22 when ice blocked a valve. During the emergency residents obtained water from private wells.

Niantic is near Decatur.

Property Owners Meeting Breaks Up Over Evictions

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—A hot fight over whether landlords should evict tenants in protest against continued rent controls almost broke up a property owners meeting today.

Amid wild argument the group shelved a resolution which would have committed it against "defiance" of rent controls.

Senate Policy Leaders Serve Pact Notice

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—Bi-partisan foreign policy leaders of the U. S. Senate served notice today that they would not stand for any "moral" commitment to go to war in the North Atlantic security treaty.

The proposed treaty, intended to bulwark the west against attack from Russia, is being negotiated now by the U. S., Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The warning that the U. S. could not be committed in advance to fight in case of an attack on a European nation was given by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee and former chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.). They spoke out in the Senate after Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) had raised the question.

Donnell cited an Associated Press dispatch, which recited the points Secretary of State Acheson was understood to have made in a recent talk with Foreign Minister Halvard Lange of Norway.

One of these points was that, although only congress can declare war, the U. S. government would subscribe to the principle that an attack on one signatory to the treaty would be an attack on all. This would be interpreted, it was said, as a moral commitment to fight.

Donnell said: "I want to protest here and now about our country's being subject to any moral commitment under which congress would be found to declare war."

Connally said he would not favor any language in the proposed security agreement which would morally commit us to fight.

Making It Very Plain

The Texas Senator said he and Vandenberg have been "making it very plain to the secretary of state" that the Foreign Relations committee "would not approve of any sort of language in an international agreement which would commit us to go to war when some other country in Europe might be attacked."

John Foster Dulles, Republican policy advisor, Connally and Vandenberg discussed the Atlantic pact negotiations with Secretary Acheson today at the State Department.

Dulles, Republican foreign policy advisor, told reporters his call on Acheson "overlapped" a visit by Connally.

He declined to say what specific points figured in the talk with Vandenberg and Connally.

The debate on the Senate floor over the pact was intense.

"Any European nation might attack another nation, not merely the one country about which we hear so much talk," Connally said in an obvious reference to Russia.

Reserves Right To Congress

Vandenberg said he expects the pact to reserve to congress "the complete right of decision" on what to do about an armed attack.

Observing that there would be no "automatic commitment," he added, however:

"Obviously, something is meant by a general assertion that we find common interest in our mutual safety."

He said the agreement would be effective, even without any advance military action pledge by this country.

"In my opinion," Vandenberg said, "the mere formal recognition of this community of interest in the event of an armed attack on the Atlantic community—without another word in the treaty—would be an infinite assurance against World War III."

Believes Speculators Caused Market Slump

Washington, Feb. 14—(AP)—Speculators apparently were active on the commodity markets when farm prices nosedived early this month.

The Agriculture Department reported today. It said that dealings on futures markets stepped up sharply right at that time.

Grains, fats and oils and some other commodities hit the lowest marks since OPA days. But agribusiness officials said they haven't found out yet whether price manipulation or other unwarranted buying and selling tactics caused the break.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan ordered the investigation, saying he couldn't see anything to justify the decline normally. Today's report was on a preliminary inquiry. It showed that the volume of corn and wheat futures trading for the first 10 days in February was much higher than January's daily average. On the other hand, January's volume was below that of December and the preceding January.

Grain markets continued today the recovery they started last week, but he urged caution.

INDICTED FOR MURDER

Talladega, Ala., Feb. 14—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, Jr., was charged today with murder in the slaying of two women whose nude bodies were found in the backyard cess-pool of his home.

He was indicted for the slaying of his wife, Florence Moore, also 19, and her friend, Mrs. Louise Deal, 29, of Rome, Ga. Their bodies were found last week. They had been shot.

MOVEMENT FOR A NATIONAL THEATRE

A resolution has been introduced in Congress to provide $250,000 for financing a national "assembly of leaders" to formulate plans for a National Theatre and a National Opera and ballet. The measure, according to newspaper reports, is supported by "prominent figures" in the field of drama and music, who seek to protect the enterprise against the "paralyzing hand of government control" by entrusting the direction of the institution to the assembly.

We see no particular reason why the Federal Government to engage in this particular undertaking. It might be a good idea to leave the development of theatrical and operatic affairs to the highly-touted private enterprise and let the growth, development and spread of art be paid for those who enjoy it.

Representative Jacob K. Javits, of New York, who introduced the resolution, suggests that the real purpose is to provide the formula by which this country can establish a national theatre, opera or ballet. Once established, he says, traveling companies would be sent around the country to bring the arts to millions who now find them unavailable. The catch in the program is that it might involve an ultimate cost of some $250,000,000 a year.

From The New York Times comes information that "leading Broadway figures" hail the proposal as "an historic occasion for the American theatre." With composure they emphasize that the scheme would not compete with commercial productions and hint that the "national theatre" would include establishments in every state of the Union.

Aged Man Fails To See Or Hear Train; Killed Near Sinclair

John Wesley Parrott, 73 year old farmer of the Yatesville neighborhood, walked with his head down toward a freight train until it struck and killed him instantly, according to a train crew's testimony here Monday morning.

The tragedy occurred Saturday afternoon at 3:55 o'clock on the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio railroad, two miles east of Sinclair. During the inquest Monday at the Gillham Funeral Home in this city, the engineer and firemen testified that the whistle was blown repeatedly; that the bell was ringing, and the headlight on dim at the time of the accident.

Honeylamb—The Sheep That Thought She Was A Dog

New York.—(AP)—This is the tale of Honeylamb, the sheep that thought she was a dog.

It is a story of what befalls innocence astray.

A year ago a newspaper friend of mine in Washington, D. C., achieved the dream of most city people—a place in the country.

It was an old 11 acre farm in Maryland. My friend, Herman Allen, his wife, Emma Lou, and their two small daughters loved their life there immediately. So did Flash, the family's springer spaniel.

Flash's Honeylamb
"Our first investment in livestock was chickens," said Herman. After that we got a couple of geese and a few ducks. Then we decided we'd like to raise some real meat so we got four lambs."

The mutton quartet finally dwindled to one, which the Allens decided to keep over the winter.

"As we might have known, she became a pet," said Herman. "not a pet really, as far as we were concerned, but Flash's pal. They played together, ate out of the same dish and went together to meet Ann coming home from the school bus."

Ann gave the sheep her name. Watching her frolic with the dog, the little girl said:

"Why she's Flash's honeylamb."

Begin Share Together

The strange animal partnership became the talk of the neighborhood. People would come by and say, "well, your dog and your sheep were up to our place today. Never saw anything like it before." The two beamed at backdoors for handouts shared them together—and went to the next place.

Their friendship might have gone on for years except that Honeylamb apparently got it into her head that she was a dog herself. And that would have been all right—except that no other dog but Flash understood it that way.

Recently there was a con hunt in the neighborhood. A Maryland con hunt is a special kind of thing. The hunters turn their dogs loose and sit in their cars as they listen to the yowling hounds on the trail. It is the dogs and the con, if any, who get the exercise.

Hound Concert Most Fun
Whether a con is actually treed and taken is largely in consequential and irrelevant. The hunters get most of their fun hearing the mellow mouth music of the hound concert.

Well, Flash came from a hunting breed himself. So when he heard the hounds out the other night he left his shed to join in the chase. And Honeylamb faithfully set out after him. She wanted to be in on the con hunt, too.

Allen wrote me what happened: "I missed Honeylamb the next morning, when she didn't show up to follow me to the car. But I figured she was just sleeping late."

"Later in the morning Emmy Lou phoned me at the office. She had found Honeylamb down by the creek. Poor Honeylamb, her throat was chewed to ribbons."

"She thought all dogs were like Flash."

Dance, round and square, Wed. night, AMVET Hall, Earl Lindsay, floor mgr. and caller.

Shirley Lewis In Faculty Recital

A well-balanced program, musically played, was presented by Miss Shirley Lewis, pianist of the MacMurray College faculty Sunday afternoon in Music Hall. Miss Lewis' playing was marked by clearness and precision of phrasing, a sense of rhythm, a tone robust without hardness, and forthrightness of interpretation.

After opening with the cheerful E major French Suite of J. S. Bach, the pianist played Beethoven's Sonata Op. 31, No. 2. Two Schubert Impromptus from Op. 142 formed the next group. Three Debussy numbers, Doctor Gradus ad Parnassum, The Little Shepherd and Golliwog's Cake Walk, made a charming concluding group.

BURLINGTON'S 100th ANNIVERSARY

One hundred years ago, a little group of foresighted men obtained a charter for the twelve-mile Aurora Branch Railroad. From that humble beginning (on February 12, 1849) has grown the present Burlington system—11,000 miles of railroad, serving fourteen great states. Rich in the pioneering tradition, the Burlington has contributed many important innovations in railroading . . . from the first railway post office (1862) to America's first diesel-powered, streamlined train (1934) and the first Vista-Dome car (1945). The 35,000 men and women of the Burlington Lines are proud of its past progress and its present achievements. But they are more interested in the future. The Burlington's first century, eventful and productive, lies behind us. Ahead is a new horizon . . . a new challenge . . . a new opportunity —to serve more people better through the years to come.

Bishop Garber Known By Local Church Leader

An Associated Press dispatch listing the name of Bishop Paul N. Garber as one of the churchmen indicated in Hungary on charges of treason and black-marketing, was of particular concern to Dr. Sidney A. Guthrie of this city, superintendent of the Jacksonville district of the Methodist church.

Dr. Guthrie recalls seeing Bishop Garber at Boston last May, before his election as bishop. Bishop Garber was assigned to the European area with residence in Geneva, Switzerland.

He has already done conspicuous work in the war torn countries, in encouraging visits to the Methodist congregations, and in providing food, clothing and other material benefits to Christian people, and also in encouraging and building up the work of the churches." Dr. Guthrie commented. He added that Bishop J. Ralph McGee of Chicago area speaks highly of Bishop Garber's work, and declares that "he is a high class person and a splendid Christian statesman."

Fire Destroys Home Near Murrayville

Murrayville—A six-room, one story frame house near Murrayville burned to the ground and most of its contents were completely destroyed in a blaze which broke out about 7:30 Sunday evening.

The building was on the Hershel Howard farm, one-half mile southeast of Murrayville, and was occupied by John Norris, an employee of Mr. Howard. The property is owned by Mrs. J. R. Newcomb of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris were visiting with Mrs. Norris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Craddock, north of Murrayville, and were not at home at the time of the fire.

Help From Neighbors

The blaze was discovered by Frank Lowman, who promptly turned in an alarm. Within a short time, a large number of Murrayville residents were on hand to help fight the fire. Cars lined the road approaching the house and men and women busily engaged in throwing buckets of water on the burning structure.

Their efforts proved fruitless, however, and the blaze, which spread rapidly, soon consumed the entire building.

When Mr. and Mrs. Norris returned, their home had been completely destroyed, together with most of their furniture and clothing. Only a few small items were salvaged.

The blaze, the origin of which is not known, did no damage to any of the other buildings on the property. The house was covered by insurance.

What's An Installment Loan?

Actually an installment loan is much like any other loan. It can be large or small. It can be made for a short time, or a long time.

It differs from other types of loans in that it is repaid in installments, instead of in a lump sum, and thus fits the budgets of a great many people.

Poles Study Meat Problems

Warsaw, Poland.—(P)—The Polish government plans to buy 1,125,000 hogs from owners of small and medium farms this year to increase the flow of meat supplies to city and town markets.

Poles for the last several weeks have been complaining about "meat shortages." The government says there is no shortage and contends the lack of supplies in some districts is due solely to "faulty distribution."

Nevertheless, Polish housewives still stand for hours in long queues from dawn until late morning to buy meats in Warsaw butcher shops.

The economic committee of the council of ministers said $13,000,000 would be spent in 1949 for the improvement of cattle breeding.

THE STORY: Quite a while ago, John Henry and Sin Conover, spending an expensive vacation at a swank resort, receive a mysterious visit from a gun-toting Homer Anglin. Later Anglin is fatally shot, but he whispers to John Henry, "You already got it," before he dies. Then the cottage of the Conovers is occupied by Faye Jordan under the pretext of a mix-up in reservations. But the Conovers find their luggage was searched when it was moved to another cottage. While speculating that Faye was to meet Anglin, who was confused by a lack of a No. 13 in the row of cottages, John Henry finds a mechanical pencil in his pocket. In it is a piece of paper on which is a cipher message. Meanwhile, other characters in the story are under suspicion, including Thelma Loomis, a gossip columnist, and Mr. Trim, representative of the quiz-show sponsor.

THELMA LOOMIS lounged at an umbrella-shaded table on the yellow tile bank of the swimming pool. Opposite her, stiff and straight in a canvas-backed chair, sat Mr. Trim.

Let the old bore make conversation if he wants to, thought Miss Loomis. I didn't ask him to sit down.

Her eyes were across the pool, where a man with an athletic figure and close-cropped silver hair idly kicked at blue water while he talked gaily with a young girl in a white knit bathing suit.

The four of them were alone at the pool. Most of the hotel guests were Sunday morning sleepers.

Said Mr. Trim, "What are you watching him for?"

Thelma Loomis moved her gaze hastily. "Curious," she said. "I wanted to see how the old goat operated." Her companion looked shocked. "He's Sagmon Robottom."

"The Prince Charming of archaeology. You probably read his book." The Hollywood writer was scornful. "He popularized archaeology—made it just like golf. Robottom's the All-American Boy grown up. He's got quite a reputation around L. A.," she added gently. "Plus a wife."

Trim's "Ah!" could have meant anything. But he looked disapprovingly at the archaeologist and his brunette consort.

"That's no relic he's found there," chuckled Miss Loomis.

AN inviting face crowned by braids of black hair was turned up attentively to Robottom. And he was putting his most charming foot forward. Even across the wide expanse of pool came the constant flash of blinding white teeth in the bronze aquiline face.

Suddenly the silver-haired man got up and fumbled in the pocket of his discarded beach robe.

"He's giving her something!" exclaimed Trim. "Say, is it a key?"

"Not so loud, for Pete's sake," said Thelma Loomis. Robottom handed the girl a little card that looked like a claim check. She tucked it in the waist of her suit so that the edge showed against her bare stomach. He said something and they both laughed. Then the archaeologist stood on the edge of the pool and stretched.

He launched his long body into a perfect dive, cleaving the blue water.

Thelma Loomis watched the graceful display he made through the shimmering water as he arched his torso and sounded to the depths of the pool.

"Say!" whispered Trim, tapping at her hand. "Another married man!"

Miss Loomis quit wondering about the card and brought her sharp gaze up to the girl opposite. The brunette wasn't appreciating Sagmon Robottom's performance at all. Instead, she had her pert face turned to a stocky young man in gray trousers and blue sport coat who had strode purposefully

Loop Paving Project Revived; Motor Fuel Tax Funds Requested

The council took a fresh start toward construction of the loop pavement when it passed a resolution last night calling for the allotment of $160,000 in motor fuel tax funds with which to help finance the project.

Plans and specifications for the loop pavement are now 90 percent complete, William J. Casler of the engineering firm of Casler & Stapleton, told the council. New concrete pavements are expected to be laid on the loop streets during the coming spring and summer.

Farmers To Study, Analyze Record Books Thursday

A study of efficiency factors and their use in conjunction with the University of Illinois farm record book as aids to better farm planning and management will be discussed here Thursday night by George B. Whitman, extension specialist in charge of the farm record book project. The meeting will begin in the auditorium of Jacksonville high school at 7:30 p.m.

Although the meeting will be held primarily for those who kept the record book in 1948, every farmer is invited to attend.

The efficiency factors, compiled from the records kept by Farm Bureau farm management service co-operators of this area, will represent the low, average and high figures for corn, soybean and oats yields; piglets per litter, eggs per hen, labor costs per acre, power and marketing costs per acre.

Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich says studying the farm business is becoming the practical thing to do. "Planning then becomes natural, easy and interesting. The reward usually is a greater net income."

GI on-the-job trainers and trainees of Jacksonville will attend the meeting. Groups from Arzoville, Concord, Chapin, Franklin and Waverly high schools have been invited.

James A. Parish, Retired Railroad Engineer, Dies

The body is at the Gillham Funeral Home where services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. The Rev. W. A. Gardner will officiate.

18 Counties Form District School Board Association

One hundred and fifty school board members of 18 west central Illinois counties attended an organizational meeting at Jacksonville high school Monday night. More than 50 members who had sent in reservations for the dinner held at the high school cafeteria failed to appear, due to the weather.

Charles R. Gibson of Franklin, treasurer of the Illinois Association of School Boards, was the presiding officer. Three separate panel discussions were held on plant renovations, policies and procedures and legislation.

The next meeting is scheduled for sometime this spring.

IF YOU SEE BROWNIE, PLEASE PHONE 336, SCHOOL FOR BLIND

Brownie, a female of undetermined breeding who is the loved mascot of Unit 2, Illinois School for the Blind, is missing. The cottage mother phoned Jacksonville police Monday night "to please look for her." She hopes somebody will find Brownie, she said. Sobbing children prompted the call.

Brownie has ears tipped with black and her tail bears a tip of white. She likes all children, enjoys play and doesn't seem to mind when somebody pulls her ears or her tail. The children in Unit 2 are sure that Brownie went for a walk, found a child, and played with her until the parent decided Brownie should stay with them.

The children asked that if anybody found Brownie "please call No. 336, Unit 2."

I.C. Group Views 'Salt Mine' Exhibit Of European Art

About 35 students, faculty members and other interested persons left the Illinois College campus Sunday morning to view the "Berlin Masterpieces" now on display at the St. Louis Art Museum.

The paintings, worth fifty million dollars, were discovered by the U. S. Third Army in German salt mines where they had been hidden. Their current tour of 13 museums is sponsored by the army.

After spending the day at the display, the group returned to the campus. Several other Jacksonville students and residents were envious of the I. C. party. The trip, sponsored by the I. C. party art department headed by Miss Barbara Hobbs, was made in a chartered bus.

A new attendance record was set yesterday for the touring German art exhibit with 172,573 persons entering the museum in Forest park in 15 days. The previous high of the U. S. tour was 161,141 persons at Los Angeles during 18 days.

Hoover Proposes Agency To Cut Red Tape, Save Money

Washington, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A new agency to slash red tape and manage a billion dollars worth of buying a year for civilian agencies of the federal government was proposed today by the Hoover commission.

It would be directly under the president—an "office of general services"—and virtually eliminate purchasing offices in the smaller agencies. It would take over record keeping and building management, all a part of government "housekeeping."

Criticizing a maze of differing regulations, the commission estimated that "the cost of paper work exceeded the cost of the items purchased" on more than 1,500,000 purchase orders.

The commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, made the recommendations to congress in its third report on government reorganization.

FUTURE HOG A HYBRID?

So predicts two hog breeders as they look at photographs of bacon from a hybrid hog. They're convinced its fat and lean percentage will attract consumers; that within ten or 20 years the farmers of this area will raise hybrid hogs just as they now use hybrid vigor in corn production.

Shown in the photo are Ben Salmela of LaCrosse, Ind., and Arthur Likes, rural route 1, Winchester. Both men attended the livestock feeders' meeting held here Saturday.

Systematic Use Of Inbreds Called 'Key To Success'

By Cecil Tendick
Journal-Courier Farm Editor

Livestock feeders who attended the district meeting held at the Monic Temple Saturday listened attentively to energetic Ben Salmela, swine breeder of Johnson Farms, LaCrosse, Ind., when he discussed hog inbreds and hybridization.

"You won't be in profitable pork production ten years from now unless you adopt the vigor of hybrid hogs, along with their greater feed utilization," he predicted.

Pork production of the future will depend upon the systematic development of inbred lines and the systematic crossing of those lines, he asserted. The real merit of any inbred will be what kind of hybrid it produces.

Specialists And Farmers Expect Two Separate Types Of Swine Men

He expects two separate types of swine men: specialists who develop and maintain inbred lines and farmers who cross those lines to raise slaughter hogs.

At the present time, Salmela, 35 year old graduate of the University of Minnesota College of Agriculture, is carrying on work in developing inbreds of all standard breeds, with the exception of the mulefoot hog, the 2,000 acre Indiana farm.

"Performance and performance only counts with us. We want sows that will rear 9-10 heavy pigs weighing around 32 pounds; pigs that will weigh at least 200 pounds in 154 days, pigs that will gain 100 pounds for every 313 pounds of feed consumed," he told the 250 feeders from west central Illinois and eastern Missouri.

Three Way Cross At Present The Indiana Farm Is Using An Inbred Boar On Good Pigs

At present the Indiana farm is using an inbred boar on good pigs; breeding the single cross to another hybrid boar and the double cross to still another inbred line.

"The whole procedure is done all over again," he continued.

Disease control through strict sanitation was called "absolutely necessary." Lice, ticks and scab are controlled by periodic applications of benzene hexachloride, "a miracle to us."

Recommends Legume Pasture
"The farrowing house should be a maternity ward, not a feeding station. The place for a sow and her pigs is a clean house on clean legume pasture. They need a balanced ration all the time. The feed should be prepared at home, but it should be done by a man who knows 'what he's doing.'"

Salmela said one crossing of Berkshire and Chester White inbred resulted in hogs three inches longer than either parent. He showed photographs of a carcass 36 inches long from a Minnesota No. 1 barrow that weighed 205 pounds in six months.

"We also need pigs that will farrow in 10 months. Why feed them extra two months? We need sturdier sows that can take care of

Teachers Endorse New Laws, More State Aid

"Continual improvement of school law and increased state financial aid to schools are necessary for the public schools of Illinois to fulfill their role in the education of today's children."

Such was the view presented to teachers of Jacksonville schools at a discussion meeting in the high school auditorium Monday afternoon. Proposed school legislation for 1949, sponsored by the Illinois Education association, was outlined to familiarize faculty members with laws, and to provide for increased passage of legislation and the effect passage of bills would have on the local school system.

One school problem was graphically illustrated when it was pointed out that there has been a sharp increase in the Jacksonville birth rate since 1944. By 1955, elementary school enrollment is expected to be approximately 28 per cent greater than it was in 1947.

This condition will require additional sources of revenue in the next few years to assure each child of

Dorothy Eustis, American Pianist, Heard In Recital

A large and enthusiastic audience heard Dorothy Eustis, young American pianist, in recital last night at the high school auditorium.

The audience found Miss Eustis an exuberant and exhilarating pianist. It was immediately apparent in the three sonatas by Scarlatti, which opened the program, that she was technically able to deal with any and all piano music.

The program contained many perennial favorites. Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, Chopin's Waltz in E minor, Nocturne F sharp, and Aeylian Harp Etude, Liszt's Etude in D flat and La Campanella.

Miss Eustis was most successful in the latter half of the program, with excellent performances of Debussy's Prelude in A minor and Ravel's Jeux d'eau. The tumultuous Etude Opus 25, No. 12, and Scherzo C sharp minor, both by Chopin, were brilliantly played. Miss Eustis was at her best where bold, energetic playing was required.

For encores she added Liebestraum by Liszt, Etude in Form of a Waltz by Saint Saens, Shadow Dance by MacDowell, and Lullaby and Waltz in A flat by Brahms.

Waverly Legion Home Fills Community Need

Waverly—The Waverly American Legion Memorial building, recently completed at a cost of $21,000, adequately fills a long standing need in this community. It has been used by various clubs and neighborhood groups and is now being used daily in a hot lunch program which serves over 250 children.

Construction was begun June 28. Dirt secured when a basement was dug under the adjacent Waverly Hardware company store was used to fill the Legion lot.

The building is of the steel Queen set type, 40 wide and 100 feet long. The floor is concrete. A 36 inch exhaust fan ventilates the structure. Located in the rear are a fully equipped kitchen, club room and toilets, two for use within the building and two which will be opened to the public at a future date. Bottle gas is used in heating.

Lions club members have donated a large electric clock to be installed on the front exterior. The Lions also plan to cover the floor with asphalt tiles.

In addition to the initial cost, about $2,000 was used for fixtures, equipment and furniture. Donations from individuals and organized groups have been received to help pay for the building.

The balance was gained by issuing $500 bonds to 15 local citizens. Interest on these bonds will be due Nov. 15. Plans are being made to fund one or more of the bonds at this time.

Until the indebtedness is paid, the building will be in the hands of a board of trustees, two of whom are elected by the bondholders, three of whom are elected by the Legion, Auxiliary, and Woman's club.

Several projects are already under way to raise more money for the building fund. Contributions are still being received.

Dedication of the new building will be held about May 1.

Governor Stevenson's bill-drafting experts already have drawn up an FEPA measure expected to be introduced this week. The measure would prohibit job discrimination for reasons of race, color, religion or national origin.
